The first edition of Zine, a pocket-sized publication titled Atom prepared by students of 3D Animation and Digital Journalism, Loyola College was launched on 10 February 2020. Rev. Dr. A. Thomas SJ, Principal received the first copy and congratulated the students.

The graphical zine created in black and white on a single A4 sheet with four folds and a slit, is the most economical, yet powerful way of communication.

The copies are distributed to students of various departments of Loyola College. They are also available at the KAUSHAL Kendra department free of cost. The weekly zine would continue to enthral the readers of Loyola college with more editions on topics that interest Loyolites. It is just the beginning. And a long way to go.
