

Guest Lecture: Presentation Skills

“Mouth Is The Greatest Tool. You Have To Use It Optimally” Says Mr.Dinesh Raja, RJ

By S. Janani, 18-UDJ-020

On 10th November, 2020 Mr. Dinesh Raja, Radio jockey with Radio City, Madurai conducted a Guest Lecture on Presentation Skills for the 18UDJ batch of DDU KAUSHAL Kendra, Loyola College. A peek into the radio station provided by the resource person fired up the interest among the students.

"Presenting is not only about the content, it's about ourselves" says RJ Dinesh.

The guest lecture provided clarity about the Radio Industry and Presentation Skills. It was an interactive session where students raised their questions with Mr. Dinesh. In a calm and smiling manner, the resource person cleared the doubts of the students. Especially anecdotes from personal experience as a Radio

Jockey provided students with insights on tackling situations in work place.

“Mouth is the greatest tool. You have to use it optimally. But sometimes you might make a mistake. But don’t stop. Continue with a flow. And people will forget the mistake”. Mr. Dinesh’s words were powerful. In an era when it is often said that it’s tough to keep the students engaged for a long period, Mr. Dinesh did it like a cakewalk.

Especially the way in which he impressed the students in the brainstorming session was greatly appreciated. The students of 18UDJ batch gathered immense understanding about the Radio Industry and Presentation skills from this worthwhile session.

Especially the difficult topics such as writing for the Radio, how to deal with apprehension while presenting for radio, scope in Radio industry were elucidated by the resource person with ease.
