

Justice V. Bharathidasan

Justice V. Bharathidasan was born in 1960. His dream came true on 11.9.1985 when he enrolled as an advocate in the high court of judicature at Chennai. In the even of attaining autonomy for Loyola College, Chennai he joined the college to study B.A. (History). During his studies he took pains to organize the students who had impeccable interest in Tamil from 1979 to 1980. As the secretary of Tamil Association he contributed to intellectual fervor and excellence of the fellow student. Looking at his commitment to promotion of justice the government of India and Tamilnadu entrusted him with the utmost unparalleled responsibility and power of Senior panel Counsel for central government, standing counsel for Chennai city municipal corporation and eventually permanent Judge of Madras high court. Kudos to Justice V. Bharathidasan, a strong and indispensable leader in judiciary for championing the slogan " Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere". Loyola appreciates his effort to make his dream come true.
