

Department of Social Work, LOYOLA College

Theatre for Transformation (TFT) - 2016

17th - 20th August

The Theatre for Transformation workshop was conducted for 1 year Social Work students from August 17th to 20th at OfERR Nallayan Research Centre for sustainable development, Navalur, Chennai. This training on theatre techniques enabled the students to understand their "self" and about social issues.

The students organized a community programme on 19th August and performed drama, street theatre, folk dance, mime and songs in an open ground in Navalur village. The four day workshop ended on 20th August with a valedictory function. Through this workshop the students experienced real transformation.

Trainers: Sr. Claire, Mr. Rajan & Dr. Kaleeswaran
Theatre for Transformation Training end result

T

TRANSFORMATION

Transforming the life of students who just entered the world of social work learning was the primary goal of TFT and that bud flowered among the student trainees

H

HOLISTIC CHANGE

It was an all round change in the mind and the physique of students with social change.

E

EDUCATIVE

The students' primary motive of joining a Masters in Social work was to equip their knowledge and certainly the training was educative.

A

ATTITUDE ALTERATION

Attitude determines altitude is a frequently used statement and the training was an illustration.

T

TRAINING

Training taught values and budding social workers got trained in values.

R

RADICAL

Student choice of a society connected career was fundamental core of the training process

E

EDUCATIVE

The students' primary motive of joining a Masters in Social work was part of edification and certainly the training was educative.