

WORKSHOP ON RADIO PRODUCTION TIME TO UPSKILL

A radio production workshop was conducted for II PG students of Digital Journalism Department, KAUSHAL Kendra, Loyola College on 30th August 2019.

An experienced hand in Radio Journalism, with vast experience with BBC, Dr. T.Jaisakthivel, Assistant Professor, Department of Journalism and Communication, University of Madras was the resource person. He took along students with his suave approach during the one day workshop, which specifically focused on Radio Documentary skills.

All the students actively participated in the deliberations. The resource person chose three of them, Rhea Angela D'Souza, Samreen Fathima, Samayan, for their drive and dedication and presented memorabilia on behalf of the department. Student Harshavathiny presented a memento to the resource person on behalf of the department and the students.

Resource person making a point during the workshop. (Below left) Poster of the workshop. (Below right) Student Ranjeetha Devi participating in a practice session.

