

“A Good News Presenter Should Be A Good Reporter Too” Says Journalist Devapriyan

By Judith Maria Antony

On 6th November 2020 Mr. Devapriyan, Senior Anchor, News 18 conducted a guest lecture on News Production and Presentation for the 19PDJ batch of Loyola KAUSHAL Kendra. He enlightened the students with anecdotes from his personal experience. “A good news presenter should be a good reporter too”, says Mr. Devapriyan.

The special guest lecture provided lots of insights on handling breaking news, news presenting and basic necessities of a good reporter. Mr. Devapriyan also pointed out how a good reporter must also be a good bilingual reader.

The resource person provided simple yet concrete tips standing out as a journalist. The various stages of news production – Reporting, Assignment, editorial, PCR and MCR – were also explained with clarity. “To be a good presenter one has to understand the work flow-from the reporters collecting information to the editor sanctioning it” he explained.

If the Guest Lecture was great, the interactive session was fantastic. Students clarified their doubts with the guest. With much dedication and patience he cleared the doubts of the students.
