

The Joy of Giving

Christmas is the spirit of giving without a thought of getting. Loyola women's hostel is our second home and never forgot to teach us the valuable lessons with experience. This year we the students celebrated the Christmas with the homeless people, accompanied by our director Sr. Alice and assistant directors. We went at night to railway stations and provided blankets to the people sharing there. We felt the bliss of love and care in sharing our happiness. We understood the meaning and shared with our friends that happiness doesn't result from what we get, but from what we give.
